

TECH SURAKSHA

PROSPECTUS

This Policy is designed to protect you against your legal liability to pay compensation for financial injury suffered by third party resulting from failure of professional services or Information and network technology based product or services to perform the function or to serve the purpose intended or failure to provide service in accordance with terms and conditions of a contract which is caused by wrongful act to which this insurance applies. It is a prudent risk mitigation practice to have such cover in place to protect your assets as a single incident may lead to heavy financial obligation.

An error, unintentional omission or negligent act including all related wrongful acts and all series of continuous, repeated or related wrongful acts of yours can lead to heavy financial injury to third party. In turn making you responsible to make good, the loss suffered by the third party. The laws now days have been constantly evolving, by way of judicial interpretations and amendments, to become one of the most important socio-economic legislations for the protection of third party interests. The loss determination process is through legal proceedings which are very costly in terms of money, time and can deprive the business of vital resources which can be used for Core business activity.

Networking and information technology companies, electronics manufacturers, technology consultants, and telecommunications firms all require such coverage. Because technology companies are at the forefront of innovation, unforeseen or unanticipated failures sometimes occur. Without E&O insurance, hardware, software and telecommunications companies are putting the longevity of their business at risk. If you are into business of IT and/or ITES segment (like software development, BPO, KPO, e-Commerce, web portal designing, etc.), it is prudent to have such cover in place.
